Ezra Conference 2023

BACK TO BASICS

A believer in 2024 is confronted by many exaggerated and false opinions about their faith. It is possible to be confused and lost in the claims of relativism. The heartbeat of Ezra 2023 was to affirm the centrality of the Word of God and confront some of the popular untruths in our time. Over 2700 students and associates from Kenya and beyond gathered at Kabarak University to be pointed back to the basics from 28th December 2023 to 1st January 2024.

In this triennial conference, we had refreshing expositions on the Semon on the Mount. It addressed empty spirituality, highlighting the importance of transformed hearts and lives in a materialistic world. Additionally, we had rich plenaries that demonstrated the Scripture's ability to speak authoritatively to all life issues. By God's grace, we saw many receiving salvation and others committing themselves to holy living to the glory of God.

RE-BIBLING STUDENTS

Delegates discussing in their small group Bible study sessions

An important goal of Ezra 2023 was helping the delegates to retrace their paths to Scripture centrality, dubbed as re-bibling. The over 70 seminars handled in the conference covered various theological and social issues. The speakers demonstrated the reality of God's Word being meaningful through all seasons in our lives. Personal devotions, prayers and small group bible study were useful for fueling the zeal for the Word of God.

It was exciting to associates joining the conference with their families. They were very instrumental in facilitating seminars and one-on-one mentorship to the students. We also had wonderful sessions to equip associates for workplace impact and biblical families and marriages. Pray that God will help all the delegates to live faithfully in their calling and convictions.

SO SEND I YOU!

As a runner up to Commission 2024 Conference, we held a National Missions and Evangelism Summit (NEMS) this February. 106 Missions and Evangelism Coordinators from nearly 100 Universities and Colleges across the country gathered at Kenyatta University for this Summit. The students had six plenary sessions and opportunities for exposure and mentorship by 10 local mission Organizations and over 40 missionaries active in different stations across the world. After the 2 days stay, it was refreshing to hear the testimonies of how they were fanned into zeal for student evangelism, local and global missions.

“It was such an amazing moment, of getting to deeply understand the ultimate desire of God for me be part of what He is doing globally.” -Missions Coordinator, Murang’a University of Technology Christian Union

“... I and my team have really benefitted and now we have seen Mission and Evangelism in another scope, and we look forward to implementing what we have learnt.”-Missions Coordinator, African International University

As we embark on different aspects of Missions this year, please join us in prayer for the planning of Commission Conference planning and the activities that culminate to it. You can register in advance for the conference at conferences.focuskenya.org.

MWILI WANGU, MALI YA MUNGU

Sexual purity is more than the absence of physical sin. It is the deliberate effort to pursue holiness in one's heart and consequentially preserving ourselves from sinful sexual indulgences. This is an acknowledgement that our bodies are God's temples to be honored (1 Cor 6:19-20), and the basis of our annual Chastity Campaigns.

For the last 10 years, CUs have organized special forums to advocate for Sexual Purity among their peers and the campus community every February. This year we had various CUs doing walks around their institutions, planning talks on guarding their hearts and signing purity pledge cards for their accountability to one another.

We thank God for the associates supporting students in discipleship and mentorship on living in purity. Pray for the students to overcome the temptations to sin and be committed to honoring God with their bodies.

HOPE, HELP, HEALING

Sexual sin begins with subtle temptations to gratify urges inappropriately and at the wrong times. As one succumbs to these temptations, their sense of guilt and shame diminishes, allowing the urge to tighten its grip on their heart. Over time, this leads to spiritual defeat and a gradual decay of one's moral integrity. Often, individuals feel condemned and withdraw from the support of their fellow believers. Some resort to secretive behaviors to conceal their wrongdoing. How can we change this pattern so that those who sin turn to the Lord instead of hiding from Him?

Firstly, we must acknowledge that all forms of sexual sin have deep roots within human nature. Merely resisting temptation is not enough; we must actively cultivate Christian disciplines that nurture spiritual growth. These disciplines act as the power that shuts off the flow of temptation, delivering a decisive blow to the stubborn hold of sin.

To accomplish this, we need to actively foster truth with gentleness in supporting our struggling friends. That's why FOCUS Kenya is presenting the Break Free 2024 Series. This initiative will offer enriching content and discipleship for those battling sexual sin and those interested in supporting them.

We invite you to offer personalized discipleship to a student today by reaching out to us at 0723412412.

We pray that this initiative effectively reaches and equips people to Break Free and undergo a profound transformation in battling the flesh and lust.

OUR MOVEMENT

CUs are very transient fellowships with recent approximations of 8,000 students leaving the CUs each year for the job market and 64,000 in the CUs. The Lord has graciously supplied 104 staff to reach the 215 institutions in the movement and over 30,000 associates for the 51 years of ministry in Kenya.

FOCUS Sundays to help new students to understand their position and contributions to a greater Fellowship. During these fellowships, students are socialized to the movement that links them to other Institutions for mutual enrichment through strategic support, programs and events.

Associates have participated in the FOCUS Sundays in CUs and in Churches near them to create awareness of the Movement. In both sessions, they preached, facilitated mentorship sessions, and some had booksales. These events in turn strengthened Associates branches as members collaborated to share their impact stories.

May God keep the mobilized groups encouraged to support FOCUS work.

FOCUS SUNDAYS HIGHLIGHTS

FOCUS Awareness Sunday at ACK Redhill done by Ngong Road Associates Branch. They had opportunities to preach, interact with the Church clergy and sell books in the Church.

Kisii Associates Branch visited PCEA Kisii for a FOCUS awareness Sunday. They facilitated praise and worship, intercessory, ushering, and preaching. They also sold books and had opportunities to interact with the church youths closer.

OUR MOVEMENT LEADERS

Strategic planning, execution and evaluation of CU initiatives and plans are the main points of accountability for assessment during the Regional Students Executive Committee (RSEC) meetings. Each CU per region is represented by the Chairperson and Secretary in the regional RSEC where they network, share ideas and convictions of service. The RSEC officials make up the National Students Executive Committee (NASEC) to give a national perspective of ministry in the year. These meetings also expose the student leaders to multi-functional management and leadership mentorship.

This February and March have marked the completion of the regional RSEC and NASEC meetings. This year, we had the highest attended meetings across the regions, an inspiring indicator of our growth.

However, some of the venues were very congested, forcing the students in attendance to share the limited resources with unavoidable inconveniences. We look forward to the actualization of Hatua in all regions to help us develop infrastructure and meet our stakeholders needs more effectively. Have you participated in shaping the future leaders through Hatua? You can click this link or call 0724 997 060 to learn how you can partner in Hatua.

Highlights from NASEC meeting with 78 participants, inclusive of staff at FOCUS Center, Kasarani. The discussions were centered on consolidating ministry gains and advancing into new frontiers

The first RSEC meeting of our new region, South Nyanza, 16 students from 9 CUs attended the meeting at Rongo University with 4 of them being appointed to lead the region. Praise the Lord for the great start in the region.
