SUSTAINED VISION THROUGH GOVERNANCE

The secret behind radical impact in society is a few people who are consumed by a course. However, a lasting impact happens when these individuals are in strong institutions marked by stable governance structures. February, March, and April 2025 have been marked with National and Regional Annual General meetings in FOCUS. In a Movement like ours, owned by thousands of stakeholders, AGMs are never a mere formality.

We met to evaluate our leadership decisions, priorities and challenges. We sat to collectively hear God and shape direction. Despite the diversity in our regions, we are united by our shared vision, mission and core values. This is how we ensure that our passionate conviction to reach students and change nations is matched by enduring governance. Our institutional maturity ensures that our spiritual fervor is sustained. This is how we breathe in, after a year of intensive service. This is a gift we receive, and one we will hand down.

● FOCUS 52ND NATIONAL ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

● NASEC - A heritage of leadership development.

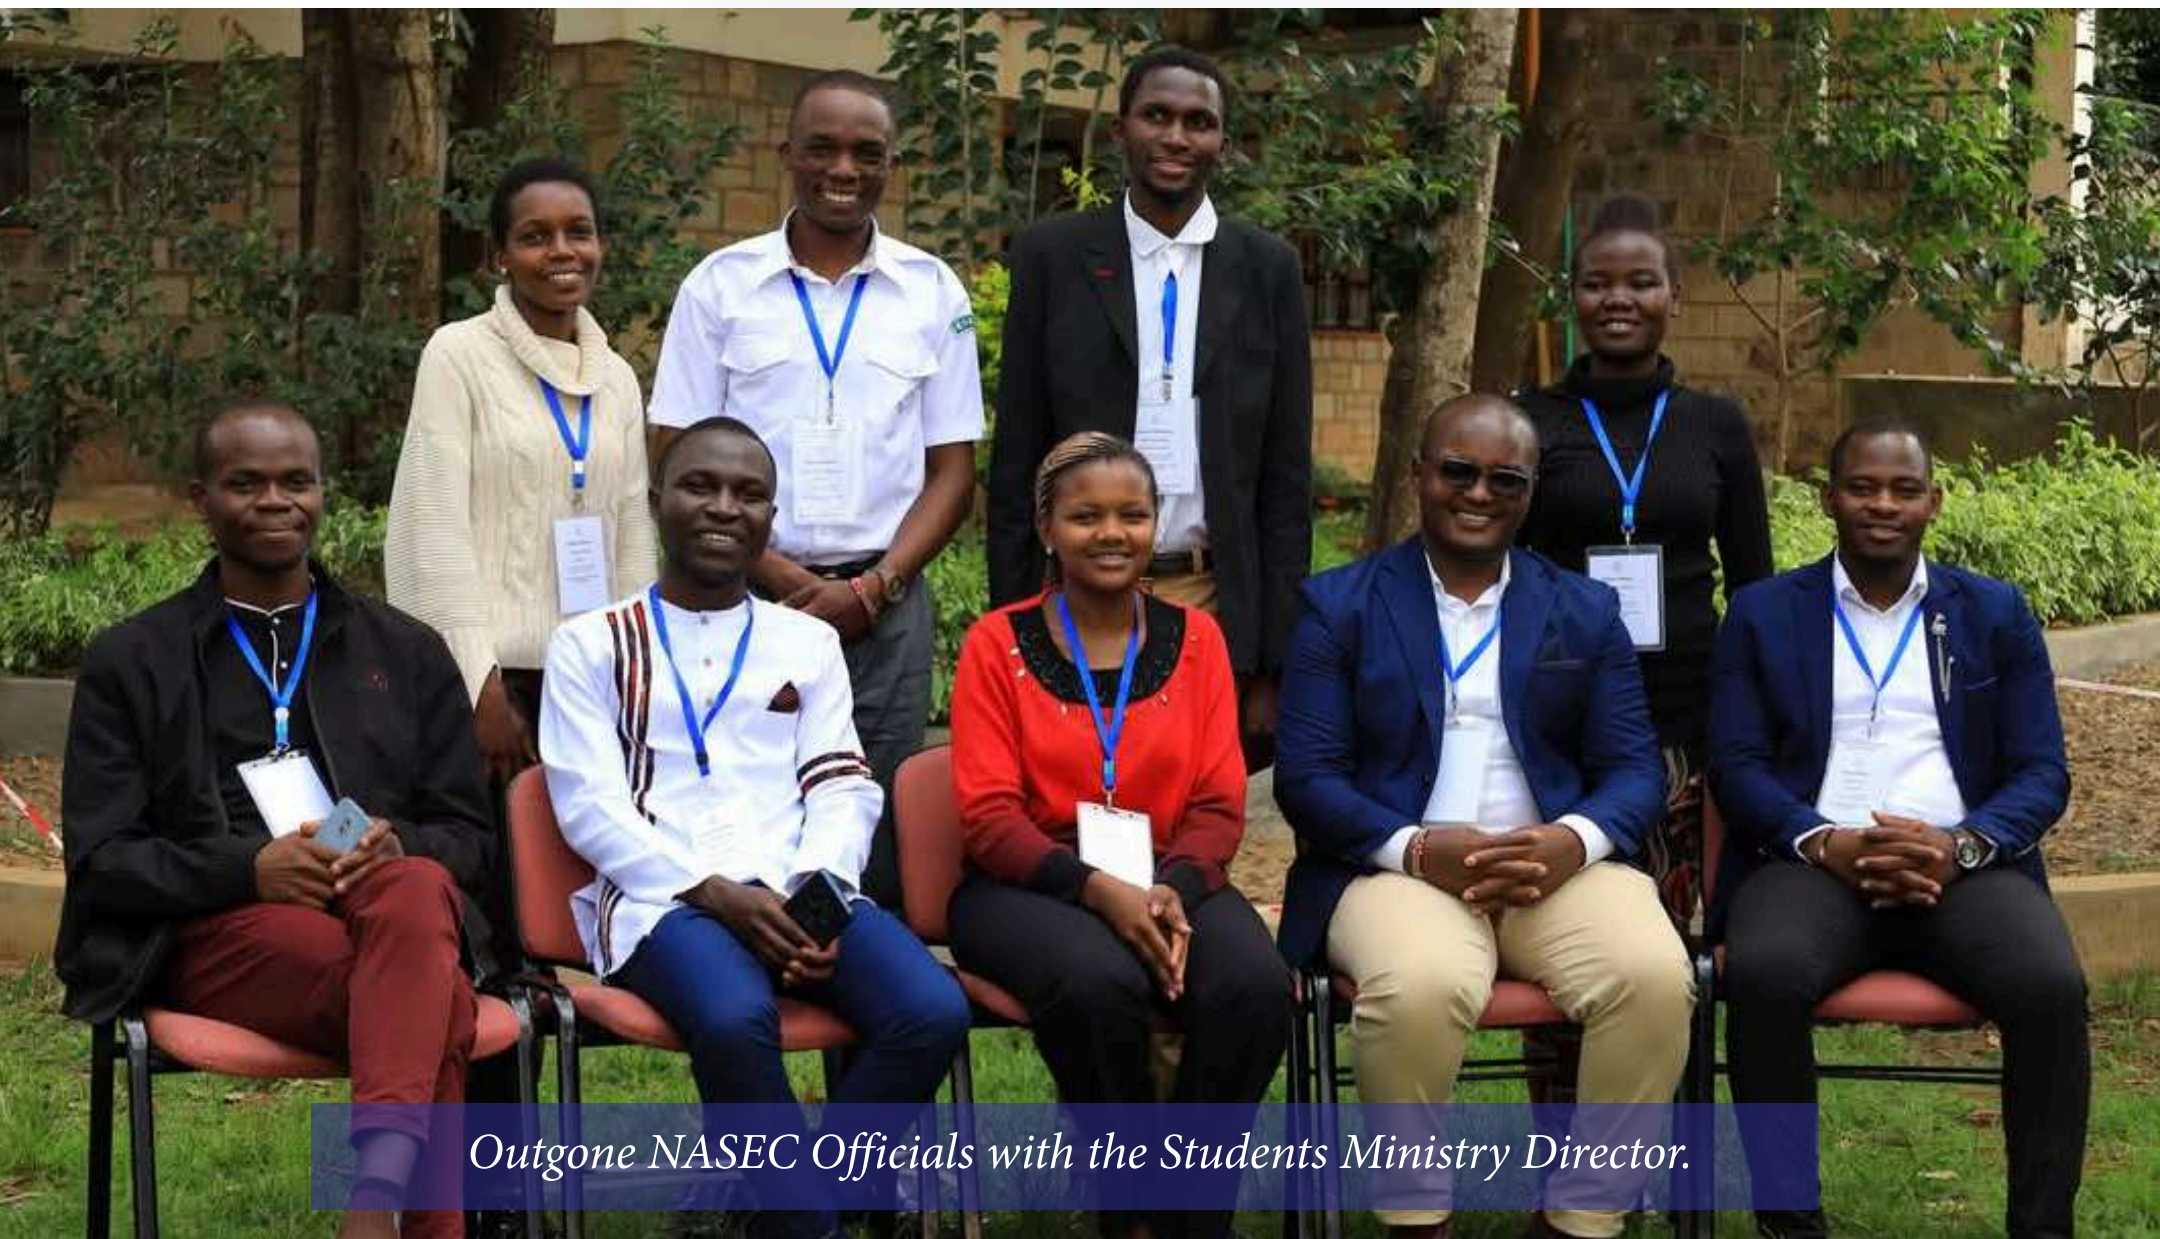

The National Students' Executive Committee (NASEC) provides an opportunity for nurturing student leaders through high-level governance exposure. Through NASEC, God has raised leaders of good values and character through transformation at Regional and National Governance Councils. Every year, 48 students are part of our Regional Councils, overseeing all regional ministry matters. From them, 9 join the FOCUS National Governing Council as full members. They undergo training and exposure as they represent their fellow students. When they sit in the Councils, their contributions are invaluable because they own and understand the Movement. We congratulate the following students who served faithfully in the 2024-2025 tenure;

This journey has taught me the true essence of leadership—to serve with integrity, to lead with humility, and to remain anchored in faith. Along the way, I've had the privilege of sitting with high-ranking and influential leaders in the country and beyond, learning from their wisdom and gaining valuable insights. As I transit, I do so with immense gratitude and renewed passion for the work that lies ahead for the Ministry. To God be the glory.

Moses Mumo, Outgone NASEC Chair

Hard to believe it's been a year! 372 of the most impactful days of my life. Serving in the National Governing Council stretched my capacity, deepened my love for God and the Ministry, and sharpened my leadership. What began as an intimidating space became the place that brought out the best in me. Being heard and taken seriously affirmed just how student-centered this Movement truly is.

We celebrate associates and students who offer their time, skills, and finances to ensure that our vision lives beyond us!

VUKA FiT: PREPARING FINALISTS

As students approach the final weeks of campus life, their discipleship concerns shift dramatically. As their focus on student routines fades, they begin to grapple with questions about life in the marketplace, marriage, family, church, and society. Recognizing this critical transition, the VUKA FiT Program was designed to provide intentional formation and bridge discipleship and mission gaps for finalists stepping out of campus.

In 2024, 3,583 finalists—31% of all graduates—participated in VUKA FiT, receiving tools and encouragement to navigate life beyond campus gates. We celebrate each one who committed to this journey and allowed God to shape them for greater impact.

● Guiding Finalists Forward: A Staff Perspective

Mr. Ben Birgen, CMF, shares his story with the finalist pictured above:

"The STEM Staff and I have walked with these finalists through VUKA FiT for two semesters. This celebration was a beautiful culmination. I will miss them for sure! What a privilege to see a team from their first day on campus, orienting them to CU, walking with them through Anza FYT, BEST-P, class fellowship and in ministries, and now they are exiting to the world for greater impact. May God bring global impact for Christ through such valiant servants and leaders. I have fullness of joy in my heart."

● From the Finalists: Stories of Growth and Gratitude

As part of the finalists' leadership team, I had a front-row seat and an active hand in shaping the VUKA FiT program, guided by the FOCUS Discipleship Manual. Being part of this initiative has been nothing short of fulfilling. It has been beautiful to witness finalists showing up, week after week, eager to be equipped for life beyond the campus gates.

VUKA FiT wasn't just another program—it was a well-timed masterclass in real-life adulting. We tackled everything: transitioning into post-campus life, Christian leadership in the marketplace, career mentorship, job searching, writing winning CVs, acing interviews, and building personal brands. And the best part? All this was offered for free, thanks to MCCU and FOCUS. People pay a fortune to learn these things; we were blessed to receive it in fellowship, no invoice attached.

Personally, VUKA FiT has been my crash course on how to step into the world with confidence and conviction, spiritually grounded and professionally prepared. Massive thanks to our ever-resourceful CMF, Issa Thuo, who always came through when we needed speakers—even on short notice. As I step into the next phase, I'm looking forward to landing a job, growing in my career as a Quantity Surveyor, and most importantly, allowing God to use me in that space, however He chooses.

Virginia

VUKA FiT has provided me with adequate knowledge of post-campus life. We received proper career counseling, guidance on job searching, and teaching on purity, family, and marriage. I feel ready to join the corporate world—and my fellow finalists can attest to this.

As I step out of campus, I consider missing out on the Christian Union experience to be a big loss for any student. The CU has taught me sound decision-making skills and how to accommodate people in the workplace. I have learned to evangelize, study the Bible, and pray consistently.

Israel

● From the Finalists: Stories of Growth and Gratitude

We are grateful for the ways God has used the VUKA FiT Program to shape lives during this pivotal season. As finalists step into new chapters of life, we pray for them that the Lord continues to guide their steps, open doors, and establish their paths for His glory.

FOCUS EASTER RETREAT

The FOCUS Easter Retreat for Associates and Christian Professionals has historically served as a breeding ground for impact-driven initiatives and forums. This retreat is an expression of our desire to bring God's Kingdom here on earth, as it is in heaven.

This Easter, from 18th to 21st April 2025, 109 Associates and their families gathered at the Seven Islands Resort in Watamu. We took time to reflect on family, integrity, governance, and impact in the church, marketplace, and society. The retreat featured engaging plenary sessions, enriching conversations, and moments of prayer and worship that deepened our spiritual commitment. It also provided a refreshing space for rest, fellowship, and renewed passion for national transformation.

THE JOY OF CHRISTIAN SERVICE

Ministers, FOCUS staff among them, bear many burdens—burdens from the needs and prayers of their own, others, heartbreaks from failures, and unmet expectations among others. The souls of ministers know highs and lows. Such exhaustion brings us to our place; we are jars of clay, with a treasure whose power comes from God alone.

From 26th to 28th April, FOCUS staff gathered for a staff retreat to enjoy the comfort of God's Word, fervent prayer for one another, open-hearted vulnerable reflection, and capacity building for the rest of the journey. The theme of the retreat was "The Joy of Christian Service", drawn from the book of Philippians. We had three expositions by Mr. Clement Babu (Western Regional Coordinator) on the following themes: The Joy of Service amid Suffering, The Joy of Service through Christ-Centered Ministry, and The Joy of Service in Prayer & Partnerships.

Mr. Clement Babu exposing the book of Philippians during the staff retreat.

● Our STEM Staff are engaging transition

As a ministry, we are always particular about preparing the Short Term Experience in Ministry (STEM) staff for their next step. As they approach the end of their term in July, we had sessions on exploring career paths, engaging transitions, and job searching—focusing on CV writing and performing well in interviews.

A panel of Associates discussing the topic Engaging Transitions.

Mr. Francis Wachira Engaging the topic Exploring the Career Path.

● Engaging biblical perspectives on family.

God's design for marriage and family has been tested and proven over time. It not only pleases God but also has social, economic, and health benefits. The alternatives—polygamy, cohabiting, separation, divorce, etc.—fade in comparison. In the retreat, we had a session on The Foundation of Godly Families. The session was sparked with open conversations led by Mr. & Mrs. Kasaya on family and marriage. Such good seeds germinate into godly families and a better society sooner than we notice.

● Renewed

We all go back to our stations with renewed energy and strengthened faith. We look forward to spending time with students—in moments of prayer, in the Word, and in life in all its forms. We are thankful that God gives us moments to be refreshed in ministry once again.

GABRA NATION MISSION

Saturday 16th - Monday 25th
August 2025

The Gabra people are a Cushitic-speaking, semi-nomadic pastoralist group primarily found in northern Kenya (Marsabit County) and parts of southern Ethiopia. The Gabra predominantly practice Islam, though elements of Traditional African Religious beliefs are present. The community was first introduced to Christianity by Catholic missionaries, who played a crucial role in social transformation mainly through education.

We invite you to take part in the FOCUS - Gabra Nation Mission. This is a Commission Conference follow up initiative to the least reach people groups. It brings together associates and students in 5 stations across the counties to witness.

Why consider the Gabra Nation Mission

1

There is a growing influence of Islam in Gabra land, which challenges the small Christian community that already struggles due to a minimal of discipleship.

2

There are few churches few compared to the vastness of the region. There is also a scarcity of mission workers, making it difficult to provide the spiritual nurturing and leadership needed.

3

Among the few Christian believers, syncretism remains prevalent. Many continue to blend African Traditional Religion with their faith, which hinders genuine discipleship and spiritual maturity.

4

The strong presence of the Hayana Spirits, continues to dominate the spiritual landscape, posing a significant challenge to the spread of Christianity.

Our mission aims to bring the transformative power of the Gospel to the Gabra people, addressing both the external pressures of Islam and the internal struggles within the churches.
